EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE MINUTES
Thursday, February 17, 2011
CTO: 3:15 p.m.

I. QUORUM VERIFICATION:

Present: Benny Boveda, Dr. Mark Novak, Steve Preminger, Rashad Said.

Absent: Joe Flynn, Bryan VanHuystee.

II. OPENING REMARKS: Read by Executive Committee Chair Benny Boveda.

III. CONSENT ITEMS

Upon motion by Committee Member Dr. Mark Novak, seconded by Committee Member Rashad Said, and unanimously approved, the consent items below were accepted:

- (a) Accept the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA)/Integration Report of February 4, 2011.
- (b) Accept the December CQI Dashboard Report of January 7, 2011.
- (c) Accept the Grant Report of February 1, 2011.
- (d) Accept the BOS Report of February 4, 2011.
- (e) Accept the December LMI Report of January 25, 2011.

IV. AGENDA ITEMS

A. Old Business

1. Minutes Approval

Upon motion by Committee Member Steve Preminger, seconded by Rashad Said, the January 20, 2011 work2future Executive Committee Minutes were approved.

B. New Business

1. Committee Updates

Dr. Novak mentioned that at its February 17, 2011 meeting, the Operations Committee had heard a very good report on small business in San Jose and the Santa Clara Valley, and that the report would be posted on work2future's website.

2. Spending Plan for FY 2010-2011 Savings

Supervising Accountant Joy Salandanan presented the December variance report in addition to the proposed spending plan for FY 2010-2011 Savings.

Chair Benny Boveda asked, based on the ongoing discussions in Congress, whether the $10.7 million allocation for FY 2010-2011 could be affected by congressional action. Executive Director Jeff Ruster replied that this year's $10.7 million allocation is obligated, but any unspent funds are subject to congressional action. He added that work2future calibrates its expenditure rates with a prudent spending plan.

Assistant Director Christopher Donnelly mentioned that one of the highlights of the proposed spending plan involves a new partnership between work2future and the City's library system to create a youth entrepreneur program to provide training for up to 80 youth to operate coffee carts at local libraries. The Executive Director added that this program could generate revenue for work2future's programs.

The Assistant Director also discussed a proposed expenditure of $20K for software to predict the behavior of at-risk youth clients based on background history, and to assist staff to determine potentially effective intervention programs and referrals to appropriate service providers. The Executive Director clarified that the software is a performance management tool that may be applicable to our adult clients as well, that it would flag potential risks that could negatively impact work2future's performance, and that it is not used for profiling. The tool, currently in use in three states, would also be used to assist the Mayor's Gang Prevention Task Force.

Benny Boveda asked whether work2future should be spending some of the savings on a summer youth jobs program, as opposed to renovating a facility for youth services. The Executive Director replied that work2future, by itself, does not have sufficient funding to provide a summer work experience program for youth; the prior two years' work experience programs were provided through more flexible stimulus funding received from the Department of Labor and the County. The ability to move into the new facilities and the investments contemplated in the spending plan will allow work2future to save approximately $1.2M in the long run, an up-front investment that is recovered very quickly in terms of savings on rent, maintenance, and utilities. The Executive Director added that a summer work experience program is not an eligible use of the funding in the spending plan.

The Executive Director said that there were two components to the $1.4M spending plan. In addition to new savings of about $1 million, largely as a result of projected personnel savings from not being able to bring or retain staff on board in the anticipated time frame, the Board had approved an unallocated client reserve of $300K-$400K as part of the budget last June. The savings not projected to be spent on personnel is now proposed for client-related services and investments to support relocation to the three community centers. The key thing to remember, he explained, is that if the spending plan is approved, work2future's spending rate would be 78% for a 22% carry-over, an acceptable carry-over for a WIB, particularly in these times of uncertainty regarding the future of WIA.

Upon motion by Steve Preminger, seconded by Dr. Novak, the proposed spending plan for FY 2010-2011 savings was unanimously approved.

3. One-Stop Relocation Actions and Related Budget

The Assistant Director presented the recommendations relating to relocation: that the Executive Committee approve (1) actions necessary to effectuate termination of the Parkmoor lease; (2) staff authority to negotiate with City Parks, Recreation, and Neighborhood Services; (3) relocation to three City-owned community centers; and (4) the budget associated with relocation from Parkmoor. If approved by the Executive Committee, the recommendations would be provided to the Finance Committee and full Board.

The Assistant Director explained that the Shirakawa center would become a hub for youth services funded by WIA and non-WIA sources; the Kirk center would house the WIA Adult and Dislocated Worker program; and the Almaden center would house the Business Services and Administration staff.

Dr. Novak mentioned that, in his experience, having staff located at different sites may affect staff synergies and operational coordination, and asked how that would be addressed. The Executive Director replied that he and work2future Board Chair Benny Boveda had discussed the pros and cons of the issue prior to the January Executive Committee meeting. He said that the management team had met on several occasions to address the communication challenges anticipated to arise, and had committed to over-communication and the use of technology to mitigate the impacts of moving into multiple locations.

Steve Preminger asked about whether EDD would be collocated with work2future, given their additional ADA, seismic, and facilities layout requirements. The Assistant Director said that work2future would prefer to have EDD employees at the three facilities as part of an integrated service model, but that we need to move forward in a timely fashion to take advantage of the once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to dramatically lower work2future's facilities costs. The Executive Director added that PRNS needs to know as soon as possible, for budget purposes, what level of income will be generated by these three community facilities.

Benny Boveda observed that few questions had been asked at the February 16, 2011 community meeting to discuss the relocation from the Parkmoor facility, one of which concerned the splitting of youth and adult services into different sites. He mentioned that a zip code analysis of current client residential locations had been performed. The Executive Director added that this analysis had shown that (1) that 80% of the youth served by work2future live near the Shirakawa center, and (2) because the Kirk facility is located within a large concentration of our current clients, the transition impact on the clients as a result of relocation would be much lower than from work2future's prior move.

The Executive Director mentioned that, at the February 16, 2011 community meeting, Board member Denise Boland had asked how we planned to inform our clients that we would be moving from Parkmoor. He had answered that work2future has set aside marketing money that, once the formal decision is made, will be used to communicate with our clients regarding why the decision to move was made and where work2future's services will be located.

Upon motion by Dr. Novak, seconded by Rashad Said, the recommendations relating to relocation were unanimously approved.

4. Introducing Technology

Lawrence Thoo of work2future's Workforce Intelligence Team discussed various contemplated upgrades and new technologies to improve work2future's internal communication and reporting capacity, allow fewer people to provide more client services, and assist clients to access services more quickly.

Benny Boveda asked whether the need to upgrade technology is unique to this WIB, or is it basically the same situation for all of the WIBs. Mr. Thoo said that one of the work teams is looking at what other WIBs are doing in this area, but that there is much variation. A relatively small number of WIBs, he explained, have deployed an integrated solution that covers the entirety of their operations; most WIBs have deployed technology to cover slices of what they do, such as job search, reporting, and tracking functions.

work2future's Regional Advisor, Doug Orlando, added that there is always room for improvements to technology, and enhancements that get individuals back into the labor market quicker and cheaper are a good thing.

Benny Boveda asked whether multiple WIBs could collaborate to lower the cost of new technologies. Mr. Thoo said that work2future is in contact with its immediate neighbor WIBs to determine the areas in which collaboration might work to reduce costs.

Steve Preminger asked whether these new technologies have the potential to drop work2future's hours spent per client by as much as three hours, without sacrificing the quality of the interaction or the client's ability to benefit from the system. Mr. Thoo replied that work2future may not be able to realize savings from technology commensurate with a three-hour reduction in staff time with each client, but that his working group's goal is to maximize work2future's efficiency and effectiveness through technology, without sacrificing the quality of our services.

The Executive Director commended Mr. Thoo for his work on this item and the many other valuable contributions he has made to work2future to date.

5. FY 2011-2012 Budget

The Executive Director focused on the $10M budget as the base case, but also presented $9M and $12M budgets to ensure that work2future will be able to (1) take advantage of opportunities to relocate operations and improve technologies, and (2) address any needed staffing adjustments, layoffs, and reductions to contracted services, as needed, once work2future's allocation is received.

He also noted that, since the budget proposals had been developed, a serious threat to work2future's funding had materialized in the form of potential cuts to, or elimination of, WIA and other key federal programs. He acknowledged the Board members and others in the community who wrote letters of support for work2future and WIA. Since less federal funding is anticipated for this year, work2future must move forward to expedite its business restructuring efforts.

The $10M budget contemplates deep cuts to staffing, beginning with work2future's temporary unclassified personnel, and to contracted services. In addition, $400K has been set aside for technology upgrades to improve operations and client services. However, because work2future has not had the benefit of a technology audit, it is assumed that the actual total cost for technology enhancements will be under $400K.

In the $10M budget, $1.4M has been set aside for youth program services, with a little over $400K allocated to work2future's successful Green Cadre program. The in-house Green Cadre program, initiated with ARRA funds, supports the City's Green Vision and has proven to be cost-effective at $1K less per youth participant relative to our contracted year-round youth program. In addition, work2future is proposing renewal of the contracts for its three year-round youth services providers: Workforce Institute, Conservation Corps, and Center for Training and Careers, at funding levels yet to be determined, based on funding availability and performance.

Other key components of the $10M budget the Executive Director discussed were:

- A proposed increase to work2future's carry-over account from 5% of the budget to 15%, based on work2future's confidence that it will be able to maintain service levels despite increasing its reserves;
- A proposed $700K for one-time funding for one-stop relocation expenses to cover the move and tenant improvements;
- A proposed unallocated client reserve of $566K for client-related services;
- A proposal to zero out Econovue's $200K revenue target for next year, although some revenue for subscriptions is anticipated to be received;
- A proposal to send 200 people to training in the coming fiscal year; and
- A proposed decrease of 18 youth enrollments for the year-round youth program, and an increase of 18 Green Cadre enrollments for the coming year.

Benny Boveda asked whether work2future's youth services contractors could serve more clients with the same funding levels, through the use of technology or other methods to drop the per-client cost. The Assistant Director responded that moving the youth contractors' programs to the new youth hub at Shirakawa would allow for a reduction to contractors' rent, utility, and other non-personnel costs, thus lowering the cost per participant. The Executive Director added that the in-house Green Cadre program, linked with the green economy and green advocacy opportunities for youth, is about $1K cheaper per participant, and that such programs allow a performance comparison of the traditional contracted model with new models that may involve work2future providing outreach and case management, and outsourcing training to a contracted provider.

The Executive Director explained the differences between the $10M budget and the $9M budget, adding that if the allocation is less than $9M, it will be necessary to bring the matter back to the Executive Committee and Board. He also briefly discussed the differences between the base case $10M budget and a $12M budget. The Executive Director further clarified that the budgets presented do not contemplate discretionary grants such as for NUMMI training and reemployment activities.

Upon motion by Rashad Said, seconded by Steve Preminger, work2future's proposed $9M, $10M, and $12M budgets were unanimously approved.

6. Emerging Green Industries Study

Josh Williams provided a presentation on five key emerging industry sectors in the new, green economy: Energy, Materials and Manufacturing, Specialized Suppliers and Supporting Industries, Transportation, and Water. He explained that although most of the jobs in these industries are very similar to traditional occupational groupings, there are few entry points for low-skilled, low-wage workers. He suggested that, rather than providing training for “green jobs,” work2future should focus on preparing clients with experience from related industries for positions in these high-growth sectors.

He further suggested that new training models should assist job seekers to gain industry experience and a deeper understanding of industry technologies. Moreover, he stated that ongoing data collection on the workforce needs of these sectors will be necessary to ensure that WIBs provide specific training to support job seekers with relevant qualifications who are interested in working in these sectors. The Executive Director discussed job seeker assessments and pre-screening as value-adds for the employers of the five key emerging industry sectors, since these firms do not typically have HR departments.

Dr. Novak suggested that one way to get needed experience for job seekers is to form industry partnerships with these key industry sectors to create internships for work2future’s clients.

7. Small Business Study Follow-Up

BJ Sims discussed New York City’s Business Wizard website, noting that the effort to develop the website was process- and customer-driven, as opposed to technology-driven. She explained that, in the conversation between City of San Jose representatives and New York City’s Assistant Commissioner Kevin Kelly, he said that governance had been the single most important point in their effort to develop the website; interdepartmental agreements had been required to ensure ongoing engagement, coordination, and accountability.

Due to the committee’s interest in New York City’s interactive system to streamline the interface between businesses and NYC, the Executive Director requested an update on the Business Wizard website to be part of the April 21, 2011 Executive Committee agenda.

Name of Agency	Period	Type	Date Conducted	Summary of Issues	Corrective Action(s)	Status
EDD	2008-2009	Program (Summer Youth)	8/31/09- 9/3/09	1. Seven case files remain unverified due to lack of adequate documentation for low income status of participants and food stamp benefits.	1. w2f provided documentation for low income and food stamp benefits. Management will assure that: training is provided to staff on acceptability of low-income self-certification and documentation required for verification; documentation of training is recorded for staff; self-certification of low-income eligibility will be an exception and must be approved by youth manager or deputy director.	State EDD approved Corrective Action Plan submitted by work2future; subject to verification by the State.
				2. Four participants were allowed to begin work prior to issuance of the work permit. Six participants did not have work permits.	2. w2f will assure the following processes in any work experience program: in-school youth not allowed to work until high school work permits are received and verified; permit is filed in individual's case file; list of in-school youth with/without work permits will be maintained; checking for valid work permit will be part of worksite assignment process; photocopies of a single serialized permit are not used for issuance of multiple permits. w2f is working closely with school districts to locate missing work permits.	State EDD approved Corrective Action Plan submitted by work2future; subject to verification by the State.
				3. Missing documentation that participants received assessments by w2f (3 questionnaires have not been received). Documentation/ agreements missing between w2f and worksites describing job duties and/or experience & training. Case files did not contain documentation of participant's employer name & job title. Could not verify that information was provided to each worksite supervisor. (w2f subsequently provided copies of its initial job referral, but this is not a worksite agreement.)	3. w2f located 2 of 3 participant assessments, while 3rd was based on interview summary. w2f provided copies of initial job referral to participants and worksite requests. w2f will establish these measures: all worksites will provide job description & job title for every position prior to assignment of participant; work experience program manager or youth manager must approve each job description & job title; participants will be assigned only following approval of each position at each worksite.	State EDD approved Corrective Action Plan submitted by work2future; subject to verification by the State.
				4. Ten of sixteen service providers did not use sign-in/sign-out sheets to account for work/meal periods and total hours. Six service providers used the sheets but did not submit to the case managers.	4. w2f stated following measures will be in place prior to beginning any work experience program: worksite supervisors will be trained to assure timekeeping meets acceptable standards; participant work hours will be reflected on a timecard and on-site records; program liaison/case managers will assure accuracy and resolve discrepancies of timekeeping records and file all reconciled records with time cards; revised timecard will be developed that allows for easy tracking of start/end times including meal periods.	State EDD approved Corrective Action Plan submitted by work2future; subject to verification by the State.

EDD	2009-2010	Fiscal & Procurement	5/3/10-5/6/10	1. w2f failed to issue a monitoring report to subrecipient San Jose Conservation Corps for PY 2008-09.	1. The report in question is a program monitoring report. All PY 2008-09 program monitoring reports to date, including SJCC, have been issued.	State EDD approved the Corrective Action Plan submitted by work2future; subject to verification by the State
				2. w2f does not have a parent of an eligible youth serving as a representative on the Youth Council. W2f staff stated the position has been vacant for about a year.	2. w2f has been actively seeking a parent representative to serve on the Youth Council Committee. On October 5, 2010 a parent was identified as a potential candidate to serve on the Council and was contacted by w2f. w2f will follow up with the potential candidate.	State EDD approved Corrective Action Plan submitted by work2future; subject to verification by the State.
EDD	2009-2010	Program (Adult, Dislocated Worker, Youth)	2/8/10-2/11/11	1. w2f 's youth providers are using the CASAS appraisal test for all steps of its youth literacy and numeracy testing process: appraisal, pre- and post-test. Therefore, the literacy and numeracy scores reported by w2f to the JTA system are based on the improper use of CASAS appraisal test for pre- and post-testing.	1. w2f submitted a "Request for Correction to a Previously Submitted Data Form" to the state for approval to delete or change data. On Tuesday, January 11, 2011 w2f was notified that the data change request was processed, and that all cases with enrollment date before 12/11/2009 were expunged. The 3 remaining open cases with no exits will have their test scores re-entered into the EYTS screen. (w2f attached a Corrective Action Plan to address how currently enrolled and future youth participants' literacy and numeracy gains will be measured and reported)	State EDD approved Corrective Action Plan submitted by work2future; subject to verification by the State.
				2. Two case files do not contain a signed participant program grievance/complaint acknowledgement form. Also these case files do not contain a signed nondiscrimination/equal opportunity acknowledgement form.	2. w2f was able to provide documentation for both the participants. W2f stated that its corrective action plan is to have the Program Manager notify the appropriate parties to issue a formal written corrective action letter to all w2f staff. Also, program management will monitor and meet with staff to ensure w2f provides nondiscrimination and equal opportunity provisions to participants and that signed documents are filed in a secure location.	Closed
				3. Paperless case files did not contain scanned documents or cross match results to verify participant's right to work eligibility. Six adult case files and two dislocated worker files are still missing this documentation.	3. w2f attached a Corrective Action Plan per the CRO's recommendation. Proposed ARRA/WIA Expenditure Adjustments

Memorandum

TO: work2future Executive Committee

FROM: Joy Salandanan
Supervising Accountant, work2future

SUBJECT: ARRA Expenditure Adjustments Report DATE: April 21, 2011

Approved

Date

4/15/11

RECOMMENDATION

Accept work2future's report on American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) expenditure adjustments in the total amount of $2,042,880 from Workforce Investment Act (WIA) formula funding to ARRA funding, to comply with the State guideline to reflect the full expenditure of ARRA formula, Rapid Response and 25% Additional Assistance funding by March 31, 2011.

BACKGROUND

On March 2, 2011, work2future received notice from the State of California Employment Department (EDD) to review current ARRA expenditure levels and make appropriate adjustments to enable Local Workforce Investment Areas (LWIAs) to reflect the full expenditure of ARRA Adult, Dislocated Worker, Youth and Rapid Response funding by the end of the March 31, 2011 report period. It is imperative that these adjustments be made as this reduces the chance of California having any unexpended funds available after March 31, 2011 to be returned or rescinded by Congress.

In March 15, 2011, the State provided further clarification on the ARRA 25% Additional Assistance funds regarding possible adjustments similar to those with the WIA and ARRA formula funds. The ARRA 25% Additional Assistance grant is additional funding awarded to LWIAs to augment Dislocated Worker funding, and can be used to fund both Rapid Response and Dislocated Worker program activities. work2future received $902,329 in ARRA 25% Additional Assistance funding in FY 2009-2010, with a term date of June 30, 2011. The State determined that expenditures incurred against the WIA Dislocated Worker formula could also be moved to support costs for the ARRA 25% Additional Assistance, and that the local area has flexibility to move expenditures from the WIA Rapid Response funding. The adjustments must be made by the March 31, 2011 deadline.

The State also assured LWIAs that it does not intend to invoke the recapture of any WIA FY 2010-11 formula funds, given the uncertainty of the federal budget for the upcoming fiscal year and the need for California to reflect the full expenditures for ARRA funds. Lastly, the LWIAs were granted an extension related to the Rapid Response funding so that any unspent monies as of June 30, 2011 could be carried over to the next fiscal year.

ANALYSIS

ARRA funding was originally allocated to be spent by June 30, 2011. As reported to the Executive and Finance Committee, and then to the work2future Board on March 17, 2011, work2future had fully anticipated spending 100% of its ARRA funding by the June 30, 2011 original deadline. In order to meet these sudden and significantly accelerated deadlines, EDD provided written guidance to all LWIAs to apply ARRA funds to cover eligible activities otherwise anticipated to be funded with formula funding.

The following is a summary of the budget actions taken to achieve a 100% expenditure rate for the ARRA formula, Rapid Response, and 25% Additional Assistance funds.

These budget actions will allow work2future to expend 100% of its ARRA allocation and maintain its ability to sustain its programs for the current year and into the next fiscal year. These actions will have no impact regarding an increase or decrease in the current anticipated savings in WIA formula funds from those projected amounts reported to the Board on March 17, 2011. The final ARRA close out report is due to the State on April 20, 2011 and as currently contemplated will contain these proposed adjustments. These adjustments have been conducted within the scope of WIA and City requirements.

A Budget Reconciliation Summary, including the proposed expenditure adjustments within this memo, will be presented to the Finance Committee in May 2011, and to the Executive Committee and work2future Board in June as part of their consent calendars.

work2future Relocation and Technology Update

[Discussion]

PROJECT GOALS

- Time Savings
 - Cost Savings
 - Improved Access to Information and Services
 - Performance Improvement
1. work2future has submitted requests for approval required by the State's EDD and by the City of San Jose's IT Department for the purchase of new servers and iPad or iPad equivalents prior to June 30, 2011. These are part of the $60,000 for technology upgrades that the Board approved at its March 17, 2011 meeting, most of which are intended to support requirements of the relocation to re-use community centers.

As reported previously, the upgrades will facilitate:

- a. Building a work2future WAN that incorporates the planned multiple locations and allows for user desktop mobility and improved file-sharing;
- b. Improved communication technology for management team to limit the amount of site-to-site travel required for meetings, etc.;
- c. Mobile solution for event registration check-ins (workshops, job fairs, etc.) and manager connectivity (iPad or other touch tablet); and
- d. MS Office upgrade to 2007/2010 for all work2future stations.

Plans for the new infrastructure were revised following a meeting between work2future and City IT staff. work2future will be required to rely on the City for directory services, which provides for certain cost efficiencies (fewer servers are needed), but will also require work2future to negotiate with the City's IT department over how its more restrictive use policies will be applied to work2future, especially with respect to customer use.

2. EDD has delayed its anticipated deployment of the state's new Workforce Services Network to the first or second calendar quarter of 2012, three to six months later than previously announced. Pending further information from EDD, staff is working on the assumption that it will likely be later rather than sooner in the revised window. EDD is working with the platform's vendor, Geographic Solutions, Inc., to define and develop the new system, which will incorporate case management and reporting, customer relations management, and job search into a single, integrated Web-delivered system.
3. As of this writing, work2future's Planning Group work teams are completing the initial discovery phase, providing a first look at customer needs and technology capacity, staff and partner needs, available WIB resources and tools, a survey of California WIBs, and cataloging and assessing the already-planned changes in infrastructure. These findings will be reported back to the Planning Group prior to the Executive Committee meeting on April 21, 2011.
4. Staff is working on a Request for Qualifications (RFQ) for a consultant to refine and build upon the Planning Group's discovery work, assist the project manager in finalizing a procurement plan and developing Requests for Proposals (RFP). The RFP or RFPs are expected to be released this summer in order to effect the re-invented Web presence and implementation of other Internet and telecommunications strategies, new software services, and new model for efficient and effective service delivery to customers that is anticipated will result from this technology advancement project. We'll review the plan as it develops with the Board's ad hoc committee, and continue to work towards articulating the plan for the Board for its June 16, 2011 meeting.

Small Business Study
Follow-Up

[Discussion]

Small Business Study

Recommendations from study:

- Get assistance into the hands of entrepreneurs through multiple channels
 - Assess new approaches to BOS and partner websites
 - Add partners
 - Jointly market to potential/current entrepreneurs
 - Develop better multi-tiered assistance, especially for high-potential entrepreneurs
- Educate entrepreneurs about credit/new SBA loans; build connections to lenders
- Address barriers to hiring: educate small business owners who see barriers to hiring workers.
- Consider streamlining government approvals for new or expanding businesses:
 - Review NY City Business Express website as a best practice

Follow-up conference call discussion held with NY City Assistant Commissioner Kevin Kelly and City of San Jose representatives from Planning, Finance, and OED facilitated by work2future 2/2/11.

Lessons learned:

- Governance was the single most important point – must have Interdepartmental agreements with the focus on Customer Service
- Eliminate City department turfs
- Not a technology driven solution: the content creators need to be in charge – customer service, process-driven approach; there will also be some process improvements discovered (document the logic; know thyself)
- Movement from paper to electronic approach – data retention and management important; databases need to be tied together (coordinate separate transactions)
- Planning began in 2005; first version was available in 2006. They began with a specific application - restaurant wizard, and now have 26 industries which were easier to implement since there were some overlaps, lower complexity, and smaller size
- System allows for on-line permit submittals, supporting documents, and payments: saves the customer time standing in lines
- Data collection additions helpful (e.g., e-mail addresses) and others deleted
- Savings weren't the driver: economic development and customer service were the priorities

Additional discussion needed:

- Talk to Finance Dept. in depth about on-line payment and form submittal – paying for Business Licenses on Internet, potentially low-hanging fruit but payment should be a city-wide process
- Careful understanding of the processes could help streamline them
- Scalability of project – look to start with one industry with largest potential need (such as food service industry), then move to next target industry
- Cost/timeline

State Senate Bill 776

[Discussion]

OPPOSE SB 776 (Mark DeSaulnier)

This bill would require that 50% of funds available under WIA Title 1 be spent on training and 75% on direct client services. SB 776 would result in the closer of One-Stop Career Centers and limit your ability to provide career advice, counseling, case management, labor market information and job search skills. At a time when our unemployment rate is over 12%, and job seekers are entering One-Stop Career Centers as much as 5 times more than previous years, now is not the time to cut these vital programs to California's most vulnerable populations.

The California Workforce Association (CWA) has adopted an oppose position to Senate Bill 776. The bill, as written, is in direct conflict with the provisions of Public Law 105-220, the federal Workforce Investment Act of 1998 (WIA) and interferes with core tenets of the legislation, namely, local control and individual empowerment.

By imposing a 50 percent training threshold, SB 776 would:

- Force the closure of One-Stop Career Centers, at a time when California's unemployment rate exceeds 12%
- Likely result in putting fewer people into training to meet the training threshold
- Exclude the most vulnerable populations, including homeless, at risk youth, and others who can't afford to be in training
- Usurp the authority of the local workforce investment boards to set policy within their local areas
- Eliminate much needed career counseling and job search assistance
- Impede the ability of the local boards to support the delivery of an array of services needed by area residents as identified in their local plans
- Interfere with the ability of the boards to meet the mandated requirement to establish and ensure the operation of a one-stop service delivery system
- Limit the ability to leverage multiple funding sources

If passed, SB 776 would close career centers throughout the state, return the public workforce system to an antiquated model of siloed funding streams, and limit much needed services to job seekers and businesses during this recession.
